

I just recently discovered the radio station K-LOVE, and it is serving me in exactly the ways I was looking for! I am a busy college student and when I turn on the radio, I want to hear something that lifts me up. K-LOVE is blessing everyone in the community, especially because it is family-friendly and has no commercials.

There is not a substitute for K-LOVE in my area right now, and if it were to be taken away, I probably just wouldn't listen to the radio and would bring my own cds in the car. K-LOVE's mission is different than other stations and therefore it provides support for people in a way others don't. It Serves the community and wants to support peoples' needs.
